EDUCATOR INFORMATION

TESTIMONIALS

FROM A PARENT

"I met my daughter at the airport last night after her trip to the Mastering Leadership Conference. She was completely overwhelmed with all that she had experienced. She called it a life-changing event,

the most incredible educational experience ever, having nothing to do with learning 'stuff' and everything to do with learning about herself....

The combination of the participants and the program sparked her in a way that I have never seen before.

She realized that her potential is not limited by her state boundaries, that her dreams are not just 'nice to think about' but that they are absolutely possible. Moral of the story: A mother can tell a child for 17 years that she can do it; an inspiring program like yours can make her believe it.

This is the best money I have ever spent.

Thank you so much."

—CATHY PAYNE, mother of NSLC student

FROM AN EDUCATOR

"I know you appreciate the teachers that regularly nominate and send students, but I would like you to know, as one of those teachers, that the students we send from Voorhees are different people when they return from your conference. They have grown socially and academically.

Thank you for the wonderful program you offer and the opportunities you provide that change the lives of young people."

—TERI BELLOWS, Voorhees H.S., Glen Gardner, NJ

FROM A STUDENT

The overall experience was enriching, practical and, most of all, fun.

I could not imagine any other way to gain so much exposure to business and entrepreneurship while only in high school. The friends I made were amazing. Everyone was interesting, bright, funny and engaged. In fact, one of the kids in my group is now one of my best friends at Princeton. I could not have asked for a better program with better kids."

—GRANT GITTLIN, NSLC student

NSLC guest speaker,
Secretary Arne Duncan,
Department of Education

NSLC guest speaker,
Lisa Murkowski,
Senator for Alaska

NSLC Features Top-level Guest Speakers

Each year, NSLC students meet with nationally renowned guest speakers, including Cabinet members, members of Congress and professionals in the fields of business, medicine, law, engineering, politics, communications and theater. These speakers provide valuable professional and leadership insights to NSLC students and serve as inspiring models for participating students as they consider their own individual career goals.

For a complete list of past speakers visit www.nslcleaders.org.
